

The Learning Network is pleased to present the

SEXUAL VIOLENCE FORUM: WHAT REALLY INFORMS CONSENT?

Wednesday, February 28, 2018

8:30 AM to 4:30 PM

Hotel Novotel Toronto Centre,
Toronto, ON

When it comes to sexual violence, lack of consent is not simply miscommunication between people that can be addressed through education.

In this one-day forum, we discuss the role of marginalization, power imbalances, privilege and accompanying notions of entitlement, and the many ways in which social disparities inform "consent" and patterns of sexual violence.

Join us for a day full of dynamic speakers, interaction, and arts-based performances.

Forum fee: $50 (includes lunch and 2 nutrition breaks)

To ensure your spot, register now:
www.vawlearningnetwork.ca/sexual-violence-forum-2018

PRESENTERS INCLUDE:

Chenthoori Malankov
Sexual Violence Advocate

Kai Cheng Thom
Writer, Performer, Cultural Worker, Therapist

Chanelle Gallant
Organizer and Advocate

Sarah Jama
Hamilton Centre for Civic Inclusion

Dr. Cyndy Baskin
*Mi'kmaq and Celtic Nations,
Ryerson University*

Yami Msosa
*Consent Comes First Office,
Ryerson University*

The Ghomeshi Effect
*A verbatim dance-theatre performance
on sexual violence in Canada*

Dr. Lise Gotell
University of Alberta