

Questions to consider when working intersectionally

Your own as a service provider:

- What are your own identities, privileges, and positions of power in relation to the issues you are addressing? Are you member of the groups you are working with?
- How does your position impact your work?

The conditions that impact social locations:

- What are the social, political, economic, or cultural conditions that are impacting the person or groups you are working with?
- What, if any, are the recent policies, practices, or laws that may be particularly relevant to the person or groups?

The social locations of the persons you are working with:

- What are the challenges? (e.g. unstable housing, discrimination)
- What are the strengths that can be drawn upon? (e.g. resources, community centre)
- Are there groups within the broader community you are working with that have gone unnoticed? (e.g. have you considered older people, immigrants, children...?)
